DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 2. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Silverman et al. (U. S. PAT. 6,370,603).

In claim 1, Silverman et al. teaches all claimed features in Fig. 3, a programmable logic device, comprising: transceivers (314); programmable circuitry (316) coupled to the transceivers; and memory coupled to the transceivers (306 via 312); the programmable circuitry configured to receive a frequency locked signal (310) from at least one of the transceivers and to establish a data rate (data reception and transmission rate) responsive to the frequency locked signal; and the programmable circuitry programmed to send and receive session information to and from the transceivers to establish a communication session (col. 6, line 5; for the user to program for their specific protocol or other implementation).

In claim 3, Silverman et al. further teaches the programmable logic device, according to claim 1, wherein transceiver attributes are stored in the memory (306), the transceiver attributes including a plurality of communication protocols (protocols such as USB and Ethernet).

3. Claims 2 and 4-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. Claims 10-24 appear to comprise allowable subject matters.
